Construction for Christ

Work is plentiful and we find that day in and day out we have more work that needs to be accomplished than we have time. This leads us to rely more heavily on Christ and His providential timing. I am busy with the Building Team, learning all of the ins and outs of South African style construction, the long process of retrieving electricity to our building sites and how to exercise serious patience. Currently, behind Vezubuhle Day Care Center, there is a Church Hall that the Building Team has finished constructing and we have been busy laying the concrete floors, putting in windows, doors and getting electricity to the Church. Today, I will begin building an outside pit toilet for the Church. In the midst of this work, it has been raining relentlessly and the rain has caused roofs to collapse at the Day Care Centers and the College. This results in many side jobs to keep us going in many directions. In the coming weeks we will begin the construction of another Church Hall at Sun City Day Care Center (the newest of the Centers). In order to meet the spiritual needs of the Building Team, I have started a Bible Study and breakfast with the guys early Monday mornings. It's a good way to begin the week and provides Team Building among the group. These efforts are for Christ!

Children of God

I have started an Art Class and teach scripture memorization with 100 Children at Vezubuhle Day Care Center three times a week. I find great joy in providing projects for the kids and the need for organized time spent with them is a big need that can often be missed in all of the work involved at MCDC. I also find time to be with the kids during their music hour. Last Sunday, I assisted in taking the choir to an Afrikaans Church in Pretoria, where they sang and brought the people a small taste of the culture they are from. The kids are never in the city, and it is a real treat for them if they are. So, we decided to take the kids out for a cheeseburger, fries and a coke. You should have seen the smiles on their faces. From my perspective, the children give all the reason for why we do the work we do.

This picture is of the kids from Vezubuhle Day Care Center. I have decided to give my available time to one of the three operating Centers, in order to form lasting relationships and God willing, make a difference in their lives. I LOVE the children!

MTC Involvements

We also have many responsibilities for Mukhanyo Theological College, including locking and unlocking the college classrooms and offices, maintaining stock of college supplies, purchasing food for the students per-month and per-day, keeping a running schedule for the 2 guesthouses and providing the students with general supplies they need for cleaning and maintenance of their dormitories. We find ourselves making a stop every other day at the store for more bread. The students go through 20 loaves a day, because at tea time it's bread and tea. God has also called us to develop relationships with these 40 students and to help one another further our dependence on the Lord's Strength rather than our own. Mukhanyo, meaning "light", is shining forth God's truth into an area evaded by false teaching.

Quick Hits

- We have started a Bible study at our house with the MTW volunteers that work with us, as well as a few international volunteers. We meet on Sunday evenings, which is Sunday morning in America... we are really becoming a family.
- Volunteer Coordination keeps us busy e-mailing, preparing policies, and organizing Farmhouse accommodations for volunteers.
- Camden is quickly learning how to communicate in Zulu. It's comical!
